Politics of court? What role did "politics" play here? No one cares about this Hunter Moore guy. No one cares about this girl. She totally failed to PROVE her damages. You just don't get to wander in off the street and ask for a random amount of damages, you nit wit.

If HBO, et al., charged reasonable rates, I'd subscribe. But I am sick & tired of getting screwed by my cable company and being forced to buy channels that I don't even watch! Who cares about BET, Disney Chanel, MTV, and all that other crap! I only watch like 5 or 6 different channels. Let me just pay for what I want to watch and that is it. Make it easy for me to get what I want, for a price that is fair, and I'll come back. I do not want to subsidize all kinds of crap channels I don't watch.

I cancelled my subscriptions to HBO and Showtime five years ago and never looked back. I go to The Pirate Bay for all my favorite shows so I can watch them for free. I am a HUGE contributor to TPB and seed HUNDREDS of torrents at a time. Since I am judgment proof, in a non-garnishing state, I keep hoping that the MPAA and RIAA copyright trolls will come after me. But no such luck.

Big deal. Its not like a dime of any judgment will get paid. Florida has the second best judgment-debtor protections in the country (after TX). I should know. Creditors have been after me for YEARS, but I still have my house and car and boat and motorcycle, and gun collection /arsenal, and I owe MILLIONS to the biggest banks & companies in the U.S. Not like Anthony to some ham & egg attorney for a no-name random Mexican woman (assuming she loses). And assuming she is not able to discharge the debt via bankruptcy.

If she moves to Texas, she won't have to worry about her wages being garnished since that is illegal in Texas.

Johnny Swift → Guest · a year ago

where is the support for your claim that she won't take the 5th? I can't imagine any attny letting her give a depo since she could still be jeopardy for criminal charges. She obviously can't be charged with murder, but there are a bunch of other things she could possibly be charged with - state & federal. Show support for your statement. or stop lying.

The only person saying she can't take the 5th is attorney Matt Morgan, and that's just his opinion. No judge has ruled on this matter. All I've found so far are a bunch of re-posts of this headline above on a several other websites. But that is all. I've found no news article referring to any court ruling on her ability to take the 5th or not for this depo. my guess is that it will be up to Morgan to file a motion to compel and get a judge's ruling before Anthony will speak on anything.

Again, the ONLY person saying she can't plead the 5th is Matt Morgan. No judge has said this. And until a judge rules on it, it hasn't happened and this is all speculation by Morgan.

Staff report

Following an investigation by federal and state law enforcement, Montgomery County took a 16-year-old male into custody on a multitude of child sex charges.

The juvenile was arrested Friday for allegedly committing Aggravated Assault of a Child, Trafficking of a Person, Sexual Performance by a Child, Possession and Promotion of Child Pornography, Indecency with a Child, Exploitation, Obscenity and Unlawful Restraint, a press release from the County Attorney's Office stated.

Advertisement

The investigation started in 2012 when the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children forwarded a cybertip to the U.S. Department of Homeland Security Investigations Unit concerning the interstate transmission of child pornography.

The source for that material was determined to be a home in Harris County.

When the investigators learned of another alleged transmission from the same location in April 2013, federal agents and officers with the Harris County Precinct 4 Constable's Office High Tech Crimes Unit executed a search warrant.

There are people out there who believe she may have some form of BPD, but even if so, there is nothing worth saving in that life. she is a convicted felon who ruined other people's lives and didnt think twice about it. I hope the business goes under, and they both commit suicide because they have nothing left. But they won't being the narcissists that they are. Amy doesnt deserve to live. Holly Jacobs' nightmare began in 2009. That's when naked photos of the Florida International University PhD student first popped up online. They soon went viral, appearing on hundreds of so-called revenge porn sites along with her name, phone number, and email address. Photos and videos were even sent to her bosses.

After futilely battling for four and a half years to remove them, Jacobs is now coming out of the shadows. She's sued her ex-boyfriend and several sites and created her own advocacy page — endrevengeporn.com — to lobby Florida lawmakers. Bills to enact tougher penalties for revenge porn failed in Tallahassee this year, but Jacobs says her fight will continue.

"Somebody is trying to ruin your life, maybe even drive you to suicide by posting these images," she tells Riptide. "I wish [politicians] would take this issue seriously."

Holly Jacobs: "Florida lost its chance to be the pioneer in legislating against revenge porn."

Jacobs, then named Holli Thometz, met Ryan Seay at Hillsborough High School in Tampa. They began going out in 2005 after Jacobs returned from college. When Jacobs moved to Miami for graduate school, they dated long-distance.

"We shared photos to keep the intimacy alive," Jacobs explains. "I completely trusted him." When the couple split in 2008, it was a "normal breakup," Jacobs remembers.

This is a stupid law. If I own the pictures (either cuz I took them myself or cuz u sent them to me), then why can't I do whatever I want to with MY PROPERTY?

It is not against the law to put someone's name & info on the internet. All kinds of "people finder" websites do this. Nor is it illegal to put someone's picture on the internet. But when you combine the two, it someone is illegal? That makes no sense.

The Govt has no business telling me what to do with MY property!!

Copyright law is well settled in American and international law. This law would upend that. Plus, it would create a prior restraint on someone's speech based simply on the assumption that someone's feelings might be hurt.

Content-based restriction of speech must survive strict scrutiny.

This law could not survive a strict scrutiny review. Preventing hurt feelings is not a compelling governmental reason, otherwise we will need a lot more laws on the books. See U.S. v. Playboy Entertainment Group, 529 U.S. 803 (2000) (Government's interest in criminalizing speech that inflicts emotional distress is not a compelling one).

See also U.S. v. Cassidy, ___ F.Supp.2d ___, 2011 WL 6260872 (U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland 2011).

It is not the job of the DA or police to be baby sitters or life coaches.

Now Jacobs is urging Florida lawmakers to pass a proposal to criminalize what she calls "cyber rape." But with the legislative session ending tomorrow, House Bill 787 -- along with Jacobs' campaign -- hangs in the balance.

"The Govt has no business telling me what to do with MY property!!"

What about your house? How about your car? And your knives? Do you have full freedom to do anything with those?

My freedom to drive anywhere ends at the sidewalk. I can wave around my knives if I want, but my freedom to do that ends at someone else's throat (well, skin in general). These restrictions on how I use my property are good things because they protect other people (the same applies to libel).

Burdensome or excessive governmental restrictions is another topic (a fine & understandable one), but restrictions on other people's property which protect my person, property and reputation is good and desirable. You can't have personal rights without restrictions on property use, you can however (will in fact) have anarchy without them.

@Caspy7 @mark14nx05y - The Problem with your argument is that cars and weapons have always been regulated to some extent. And misuse of them can cause a physical or property damage. What you want to do, and what this law would do, is upend nearly a century of copyright law and court decisions!

Copyright law is well settled in American and international law. This law would upend that. Plus, it would create a prior restraint on someone's speech based simply on the assumption that someone's feelings might be hurt.

Give out your real name, residential address, work place and address, your home and cel phone number included with a post of you performing an explicit sex act (do not forget that your face must be visible so there will be no mistake in that it is you). It is not illegal, yet, so you should stand up for your rights. Don't let the government stop you from posting your private moments with your genitals and facebook address out for all to see.

@lhasalegal @mark14nx05y Maybe I am not an idiot to put myself out there naked on the interwebs for all to see. When I give someone my naked pics, or when I allow someone to take naked pics of me, I am giving up my power to decide who gets and who does not get to see me naked.

In any event, you are arguing emotions and not the law. This is a legal issue involving property rights and just how far we are willing to let the government interfere with our lives.

You do not have to like the US Supreme Court decisions and you can disagree with them as much as you want to. But the law is what it is and wishing otherwise does not make it so. The federal courts have REPEATED said that the Government's interest in criminalizing speech that inflicts emotional distress is not a compelling one.

The Constitution is what it is. We live in a free society often times filled with jerks. But it is not the government's job to be everyone baby sitter and to make everyone play nice with one another.

A taste of sweet, sexy Shae Bradley of MTV's Buckwild "fame". She is as big of a whore as one would expect! Mouth, vag and ass. Sexy slut.

Well Judge Tod Kauffman, obviously the tape was not destroyed. Or at least MY copy of it wasn't destroyed. See I made 8a7 a copy of Jesse's tape without him knowing because I was afraid that something like this would happen. Jesse was the legal own of the video and had copyright ownership, too. While he maybe cannot sell it legally (since Shae won't agree to it), he can legally GIVE the tape away and post it for free on the interwebs.

But Jesse isn't that smart. So I went and made a copy months ago and now I am giving you all a taste of Shae. The full tape is being sold to an overseas company by me and will be available for purchase.

No WVA clown in a black robe can engage in illegal prior restraint by prohibiting the FREE release of this video.

IsAnybodyDown: The Fake Identities of Craig Brittain, aka "Jess Davis" and "David Blade"

February 15, 2013 | Adam Steinbaugh | Uncategorized | 15 comments

If you've been following the ongoing saga of revenge porn site IsAnybodyDown.com, you might recall that I've alleged that the site's operator, Craig Brittain of Colorado Springs, was likely getting photos for his site by responding to Craigslist personals ads. I theorized this on the basis that most of the posts on IsAnybodyDown are tagged 'craigslist' and from screenshots posted by Brittain.

The new server is at IP 67.220.215.35 You still have all the same rankings / admin privileges. The server will be done for the month of October while it is being set up to run COD:MW2.

Everyone - EVERYONE - will have their old rankings / admin status on the server. THERE WILL BE NO CHANGES!!!!!!!!!!!!

Send me a message if you have any questions / concerns.

- The email address t\_retz@hotmail.com was used by “Thomas C. Retzlaff, Esq.” in a post here, which accurately documented Retzlaff’s family history:
<http://paulbuddehistory.com/family/usa/>

Budde’s in Minnesota

Rice Country 1

I just happened to come across your website devoted to the Budde family. My great great grand mother was Wilheimine “Minnie” Budde (who married my great great grand father Albert Retzlaff in Germany). She is buried near my grand parents in Faribault, Minnesota, USA. I am originally from Rochester, MN (about 60 miles or 100 km from Faribault), but I now live in San Antonio, Texas, after getting out of the US Army last year. A lot of my grand mother’s family came to Minnesota and is buried there in the Rice County area.

Rice County 2

There are Buddes from Prussia in Rice County Minnesota in the last half of the 19th century. Some of these live close to nephews of my William Budde’s wife, Anna Maria Wolf. They may be relatives of my William Budde, who in 1878 moved from Vernon, Lake, Illinois to Belgrade, Nicollet, Minnesota. Does anyone have more info about them?

Christian Wilhelm Budde

My mother’s maternal grandfather was Christian Wilhelm Budde born In Hannover Dec 3, 1835. Came to the USA about 1849. Would be interested in any info on his ancestry. His wife was also from Germany Anna Maria Wolf b. Dec. 3 1833. Lived in Chicago and later Mankato Minnesota.

Those who forget history are condemned to repeat it.

Have we already forgotten the lessons of history? What about the infamous STAR chamber of England? That is why the Founding Fathers created the Sixth Amendment, along with the First Amendment right of access to criminal trials and jury selection.

Anonymous jurors are just one step away from fake jurors.

Besides, in this age of the internet, how could a court truly keep someone anonymous? All a person has to do is take a picture, post it, and ask "does anyone know who this person is?"

Seems like all you knuckleheads here missed the biggest point about this video:

"I went under oath less than a year ago," she said. "The only person I had sex with was my husband whom I'm now married to."

What I would like to know is where it was that she was under oath when she made this statement. If she did say this then she is guilty of aggravated perjury — a felony in most jurisdictions.

You would be wise to have your attorneys look into this and obtain copies of any court transcripts of her testimony. This will torpedo her case against you.

Too be perfectly honest, she is a whore. Is it worth having sex with strange men just so you can fly on a private air plane? Not to me.

She's a little old for me, but I'd still tear that up.

What you do and what you are LEGALLY allowed to do are two different things.

The point that I was trying to make, which seems to have escaped you, is that (1) the girl claimed that she was underaged when the nude pictures were taken; (2) a person cannot legally get tattoos & piercings if they are under 18 (w/o parents consent, of course); (3) the pictures show that she obviously has A LOT of tattoos & piercings; therefore, her claim that she was under 18 when these pictures were taken does not seem credible.

Additionally, you totally ignored the fact that she has stated that she made these nude pictures when she was underaged; therefore, she has admitted to committing NUMEROUS serious felonies – felonies which would require LIFETIME registration as a sex offender, not to mention prison time!

So, perhaps – just perhaps – she is full of shit here and is just trying to get publicity for herself by making a bogus claim that someone stole her nude photos from her Twitter account just to get her name out there.

To be honest, before I saw the story on TMZ about the hacked and nude pictures, I never heard of this girl. I only happened upon this website when I did a google search for ehr nude pics because I wanted to see them. But for her claim and press release, none of that would have happened and she would have stayed an unknown person for the vast majority of America.

Do you now understand the point I was trying to make, nigger? (And, no, I do not spell nigger with an “n”, nigger is N I G G E R, which is what I meant because that is what you seem to be).

@DBurdett

I never said anything about having a problem with child pornography by thinking it is a horrible offense. I don't. I do not mind those kinds of pictures at all if other people want to take them of themselves, that is fine with me.

The point I was trying to make is that I believe that her claims of being underaged was BS. And to have herself or her PR people make such a statement is stupid because the only way such a statement could be supported is by her own admission that she committed several felonies. Which is funny.

I do not have a problem with child porn, nor do I think it should be illegal. It is personally not my cup of tea and I do not have any such pictures, nor do I look at such (unless they are famous or semi-famous Hollywood or rap "stars" who go onto the interwebs hollering about their "hacked" photos and being underaged – lol). But personally I don't care. As long as no one is being forced or abused. But just taking pictures is hardly abuse.

If I look at a picture of someone being murdered, am I a murderer or did I somehow cause or participate in a murder? Of course not! But people who are against child porn make the argument that people who look at child porn are abusing children.

As an example, and a pure hypothetical question here, suppose I look at naked pictures of some underaged girl who lives in Russia that were taken five, ten, or more years ago. I don't know the girl and never had any contact with her or anyone connected to her. Yet, a person who finds such images on the internet in some file sharing website – who downloads them freely and doesn't even pay for them, can go to jail for YEARS for simply looking at a certain kind of picture.

How is that justice?

Child pornography is the ONLY crime for which you can go to prison for just for looking at a photo. I can look at murder photos all day long. I can watch rape videos all day long. I can look at car crash or horrible accident pics and vids all day long. Yet I won't go to jail for that.

THE FIRE – BEFORE AND AFTER

Over the years of research into the history of Old Tucson, I have heard many theories about the fire at Old Tucson. I won't go into each theory, but will say that the speculation has really run the whole spectrum. So I decided to go right to the main source of correct information about the fire. I sat down with James Pratt, one of the main arson investigators from the Pima County Sheriff's Dept who investigated this fire. Jim is now retired from the Sheriff's Dept and works as an inspector and investigator for the Northwest Fire District here in Tucson. This is a synopsis of the information he gave me.

todd says:

November 1, 2013 at 11:26 pm

Just curious, regarding your arson suspect, are you referring to Quintier? If so, while he might have been charged w/ arson in 1998, he was never convicted. I can find no mention of any arson court cases in the AZ court online records, nor any for Pima County. I did find a record of a civil lawsuit filed by the Tucson Estates homeowners Assn. against him. But it looks like it was dropped and never brought to judgment. What say you? If this is your supposed suspect, it seems pretty weak. No indictment was ever brought, so it seems disingenuous to even make mention of this in your post. yeah, I know you don't name names. But to even suggest that there was an arson suspect is completely bogus to me.

Funny but I don't see anything in those tweets that link this account to Thomas. Nor do I see any death threats. If there really were death threats why haven't the cops made an arrest? Do the cops in San Jose not know how to investigate death threats? Do they just not care? Or, perhaps, there is ZERO evidence?

If you wish to call this a "Twitter War" then isn't it fair to say that Thomas has won? After all, @Bullyville and 7 other McGibney accounts have been BANNED by Twitter, right? Yet this Klansman guy is still standing strong. Despite all the nerd rage I feel coming from McGibney & Company, the only one losing anything here is McGibney. He has lost his reputation. He has lost his investors. He has lost his advertisers. He has lost his celebrity sponsors. He has lost a ton of money. Yet he can't do anything to Thomas but get a couple of sock accounts to tweet his name ever once in a while.

Some battles just aren't worth fighting. It looks to me like McGibney picked a fight with the wrong guy - a guy who doesn't care what you say about him, who isn't afraid or intimidated by lawsuits or "Anonymous" or other weirdos on the internet.

Besides, since when is it McGibney's job to clean up the internet? Who placed him in charge of deciding what you can or cannot say on Twitter?

ALIAS Molly Santucci AKA Thomas Retzlaff - Within a Texas Department of Protective Services filing against Thomas Retzlaff, it was discovered (Retzlaff admitted) that he was kicked out of Drury College for stalking and harassing Beverly Santucci.

Appellant treated women without respect [RR VII:73,74], would carry a gun to the door to answer it [RR VIII:5], indicated to his children that law enforcement is not trustworthy [RR

VIII:5]; failed to follow court orders - continuously calling [REDACTED] Retzlaff's home in violation of the court's orders [RR VI:172-175; Appellant admitted to writing letters against the conditions of his community supervision to the children [RR III:53-54]; Appellant admitted he dialed Dawn Engelke's phone number when he was court-ordered not to contact her [RR IV:52-54]; [REDACTED] Retzlaff testified that Appellant got kicked out of Drury College for stalking and harassing Beverly Santucci, a girlfriend Retzlaff had had an affair with early in their marriage [RR V:79]; Robert

Retzlaff, paternal grandfather of the children, admitted that Appellant had a "level of defiance" for authority [RR VI:231]; In dealing with an incident where [REDACTED] took a knife to school, Appellant reacted by asking [REDACTED] why he took his property, not by reprimanding him for doing something dangerous or against school rules [RR VII:61, 62].

- Claims to be an intern at the ACLU, doesn't exist.

MORE VICTIMS COMING OUT AGAINST TEXXXAS REVENGE-PORN SITE

JANUARY 25, 2013

By SA DAILY

When Beaumont attorney John Morgan first heard from Hollie Toups, he had a deeply emotional reaction. “After I interviewed her, I felt like a dad and this was my daughter. ... I felt protective,” he told me. “Then I got very, very angry – those people were trying to ruin this young gal’s life.”

By “those people,” Morgan means the unnamed revenge-porn purveyors at Texxxan.com. Toups, 32, is among the untold number of women (and a lesser number of men) who have had their nude photos splashed up on the site, often accompanied by their names and Facebook profiles, for viewers to gawk at.

2 ^ | v · Reply · Share ›

James Smith · 2 years ago

My name is James Smith and I am the defendant in the Texxxan.com lawsuit. I want all you ladies to understand that I completely do not care about you or your problems. Not one bit. John Morgan is just using you to grab some headlines. He knows that his lawsuit will go nowhere because this website has no legal liability. I owe no legal duty to you girls whatsoever. And, again, I do not care about you or your problems. This situation is a YP, not an MP.

I wish you girls had taken the time to Google John Morgan and his associate Mr. Klein. If you had you would have seen a website called Operation Klein Watch that would have told you all about those two jokers. They are the ones responsible for your pain and suffering as they sold you a false bill of goods. They made you promises that they know they cannot keep. The law in this area is well-settled - I have 100% immunity from any of your claims.

When Congress passed this law in 1996 they made a conscious decision not to require websites to police user submitted content. It simply is not economically feasible. If Facebook with all of its billions of dollars cannot do it, how do you expect a guy like me to do it? Besides, its called "revenge porn" for a reason. If it were called Happy Bunnies Playing than the content would be entirely different. But its not.

The law is what it is and crying and hollering is not going to change a thing. If you want to get mad at someone, how about getting mad at your ex-'s for posting that stuff about you? And why didn't you name them in this lawsuit? At least there you would have had a real cause of action. Oh, but that would make too much sense, wouldn't it? That would cause you to do something completely unfamiliar like taking responsibility for your own actions, right?

Having read Mr. Morgan's petition, it is my position that he has no viable cause of action. Your lawsuit involves a simply claim involving property rights and my argument is that those photos are the property of the website to whom they were submitted. The boys either took the photos themselves (which would make them the owners of the photos outright) or the girls took the photos and then gave them to the boys (which then also made the boys the owner of the photos). The boys then turned around and decided to give the photos to the website; thus, transferring ownership to the website.

To make this understandable let us substitute "a pair of shoes" for "naked pictures." The girls either gave a pair of shoes to the boys or the boys had their own pair of shoes. In any event, the boys now have a pair of shoes. They then decide to give the shoes to me. Thus, I got the shoes.

This website has not intruded upon anyone's privacy. If any intrusion was done, it was done by the now ex-boyfriends.

That police chief here is a big douche bag and has no business being in law enforcement. Unlike what that stupid cops says, this guy did not commit the equivalent of hollering 'fire' in a crowded movie theature. This seems more like the modern day equivalent of saying, "Good, I'm glad it burned down", after the fire.

This is America - you have a God given right to be offensive and stupid. The US Supreme Court said so when they allowed the Westbrough Baptist church to do their thing. And now that "church" is protesting at the kids' funerals.

many thanks for all the stupid cops in Medina for screwing us tax payers out of our money on account of the huge lawsuit this guy and the ACLU will win.

First off, there's no such thing as a "God-given right" - rights are a concept of man and can only be allocated to man by man. But I don't expect a child of your insufficient intellect and upbringing to understand this.

Second, that right was accorded to Americans within limits. You have no clue as to what those limits are, and I advise you educate yourself quickly.

I'm sure you've noticed a few things have been happening recently directly related to your string of hate speech on the internet as of late. The time in which you can successfully fend off the negative legal consequences of your behavior is quickly diminishing.

Hey, the IP address seems to change with the typing style. Guess they were right after all.

Listen, I've work to do, so I'm going to have to leave all of you running this one troll account to your own devices for a while. I'm sure you can handle yourselves. XD

I know the therapist told you that these writing exercises might help you come to terms with your lecherous past, but if I were you I'd consider proper identifiers. Makes ya look kinda silly otherwise.

Actually, do you know those terms? "lecherous" and "proper identifiers"? I just realized with whom I was conversing. XD

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights." Free Speech is one of those rights endowed to us by our Creator; thus, the right to offend is a God-given right.

Wow. You're as bad at political science as you are at law.

The First Amendment was not written by God Himself. So, no - the right to freedom of speech is most certainly not "endowed to us by our Creator". You MIGHT have a claim if such words can be found in the Bible, but they can't.

Further, hate speech is not protected free speech. An ACLU intern, as you allege you are (which I strongly doubt and will be checking Monday as part of an article I'm writing on online anonymity), should know the difference rather intimately.

But you don't seem to have the first clue. Interesting.

What a low-life scum bag u are, Brian hate speech is most certainly protected under the Constitution. See R.A.V. v. City of St. Paul, 505 U.S. 377 (1992). Ur a piece of garbage who likes to stalk little girls.

u are also an absolute loser who is unemployed. In the 2 days u have been registered here u have made nearly 40 posts. Maybe u should get a job. Oh, but first u have to get a life.

Hate speech is far different from falsely accusing someone of a Federal crime.

If I were you, I'd stop replying. Now. Anything further will be simply forwarded to the Texas State Attorney General.

ur a short eyes for stalking little girls. cry all u want u, ur a freak and a stalker and u are probably a homosexual, too, from the stupid girly words u like use. i bet u have sex w/ animals, too. ASPCA needs to check ur cats out cuz i bet u been molesting them.

you need to quite trying to have sex with underaged children, Brian. its not right.

FYI - Brian, the vast majority of people who have been molested go on to molest others. So I am not surprised that u are a molester and cyber stalker.

So stop having sex with ur animals and molesting little kids and get a job. ur a freak. - thx for the lulz loser. rage more n00b. ur dox are all over the interwebs now.

To Whom It May Concern:

My name is Brian Paone, and I am a 33-year-old resident of the State of Tennessee. I am writing to you today to file a complaint against an individual who alleges to live in Texas and is falsely saying I have attempted to solicit her (a minor child by her claims) for sexual intercourse.

I am a victim of childhood sexual abuse myself. From the ages of 4 to 7 I was molested regularly by a male babysitter and friend of the family. Under normal circumstances, any law-abiding citizen in their right minds would be horrified to be accused of such a thing. In MY case, it's exceptionally distressing as a result of my past.

I have enclosed a screen capture of the accusation as well as a link to the conversation in question. Kindly inform me as soon as possible as to what I have to do in order to get my name cleared and a proper written apology issued by the accuser (if they do, in fact, live in your state - we all know how the internet is). Please know that I consider my reputation to be my most valuable possession and I am willing to go to great lengths to ensure it remains spotless.

Thank you very much for your time, but more importantly, thank you very much in advance for your prompt attention to this matter.

Regards -

Brian Paone
